Company Summary

Arumloo is a South African company that develops world leading low flush toilets that are beautiful and water efficient. We believe in saving water every flush and increasing access to dignified sanitation.

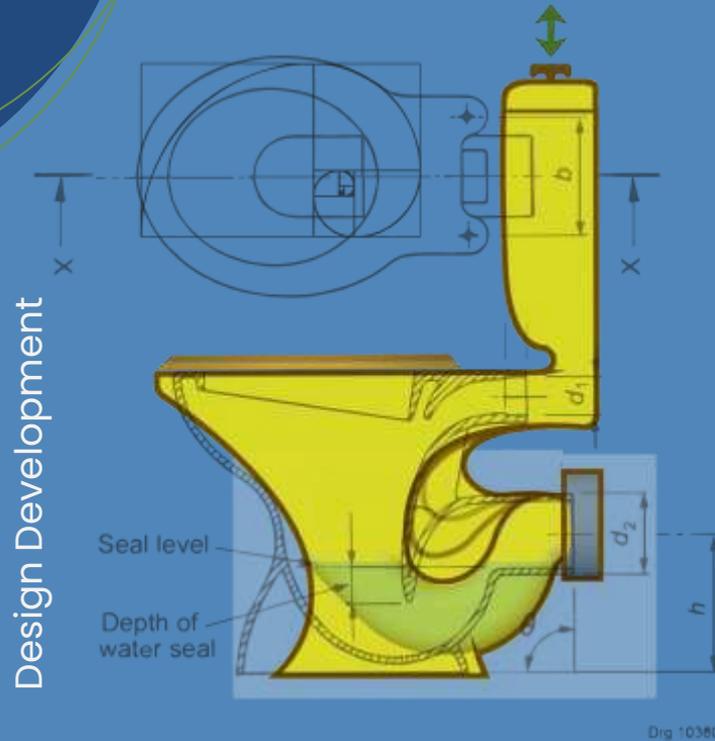

Most modern toilets flush on 6 to 9 litres. By flushing on less than 2 litres, the Arumloo toilets save water and money.

Our products have demonstrated their reliable performance in homes, schools and offices since 2022. With an increasing global footprint in Southern Africa, East Africa and the United Arab Emirates.

Our customers contribute to improved water resilience while benefiting from a quick return on investment through significant water savings.

How We're Different

- Flushes effectively on less than 2 litres (normal toilets flush on 6 to 9 litres)
- Nature based design to achieve optimum performance
- Excellent Return on Investment due to water saved
- Available in ceramic or plastic
- Can be connected to multiple downstream systems (sewer, on-site treatment)
- Does not require electricity or pumps to operate

Customer Reviews

“We absolutely love your toilets. They are unbelievably effective. They are the best toilets I have ever experienced for saving water and superbly designed.”

Nicola Blewett, Homeowner, Cape Town

“We’ve noticed a dramatic increase in learner enrolment at the school (since we installed the Arumloo toilets). We therefore believe and trust the toilets have a very great impact on the health of the students. Whenever I show people around the school, I always show them the toilets.”

Principal of Barkerville School, Eastern Cape

“Delighted, absolutely delighted. It gives me enormous pleasure. I am delighted and blown away by how well it works. The design is fantastic! Well done all of you. Lots of happiness. Thank you!”
